Additional Information specific to the Morris Campus

The time of the examination is based on the hours and days the class is regularly scheduled. Unless otherwise announced, the exam will be held in the classroom in which the course is taught. In determining the hours and days of final exams from examination schedules use these guidelines:

—Go by the lecture hour rather than the laboratory or discussion hours.
—Follow the MWF sequence if your class meets on any or all of these days.
—Follow the TTh sequence if your class meets on any or all of these days.
—Courses that begin at 9:00, 11:00, 1:00, 3:00 or 5:00 will follow the TTh sequence but may be held in an alternate classroom.
—Use the first full class hour if your class meets more than one continuous hour.

Highlights from the University Policy

Classes and Events During the Study Day/Finals Week Period

1. No classes will be permitted after the last scheduled day of instruction for that term/semester for any course that normally includes undergraduate students. Instructors may not schedule classes on Study Day.
2. Instructors may not hold a regular class during examination week (which can interfere with students' other exams) and may not hold a class during the first hour of the examination period and then conduct the final examination during the remaining hour(s).
3. No University-sponsored extra-curricular events, which require the participation of students, may be scheduled from the beginning of Study Day to the end of Finals Week. Exceptions to this policy may be granted ONLY by the Senate Committee on Educational Policy. Instructors must provide an alternative and timely opportunity for students to complete course requirements they were unable to complete because of an absence permitted by this policy.
