Being a Community Adviser is a rewarding and demanding job. CAs make a difference in the lives of fellow students by supporting their individual goals and by fostering cohesive communities that enhance students' personal and academic success.

To begin the application process attend an information night at the end of fall semester or the beginning of spring semester to learn more about the position and pick up an application. Applications are typically due at the end of January. First round interviews take place during the beginning of February; you will be assigned a time according to a schedule that is turned in as part of your application. If you receive a second round interview, it will take place during the end of February or early March. You will be notified of whether you receive a position prior to spring break.
